

New Hire Orientation Schedule 2023

New employees are required to attend the new hire orientation (NHO) before they can begin working. HR will schedule orientation upon background check/livescan clearance and online completion of the new hire paperwork. During the orientation, HR will review the company's policies, procedures, and employee expectations and answer any questions. Employees will then complete the necessary training during the week before they can report to work the following Monday. For questions or concerns, email FoundationHR@csudh.edu.
